

Advertisement Opportunities

Visitors to our site are highly targeted to the commodity futures trading industry. We solicit visitors to our site through internet advertisement, email newsletters, direct mailings and through referrals from various sources related to commodity futures trading. The individuals that view your advertisement will be at our site to learn about commodities trading. They will be either current traders who are looking for more information on trading futures or new traders who need assistance to begin trading. In either case these are individuals who fit a highly targeted demographic - commodity traders!

Resource Page Listing

Have your text advertisement and contact information featured on our resource page at: <http://www.commoditytradingmethods.com/resources.html>

Visitors to our resource page are looking for information! Clients and visitors to our site look to the resource page for even more information. Many of these individuals are likely looking to progress in their trading or to change their current trading methodology. An ad placed on this page will likely reach those who are interested in change and improvement.

Your resource page listing may include:

- Your name and/or your company name.
- Phone number(s).
- Mailing address.
- Web site address (URL).
- Email address.

As well as a text ad of up to 1000 characters!

The list above is only a suggestion. You can tailor your listing to suit your needs. We will work with you to approve your ad and to make your ad work for you. Your listing includes co-sponsorship of our email newsletters for the 6 month period.

Regular Pricing: $495/month - minimum 6 month commitment.
Special: 6 months for $2495. Save $475!

The variety of possible ad combinations and sizes is almost endless. We can work with you to create a unique ad placement which you cannot readily find on other web sites. Most sites require text only or graphic only or some combination of a graphic with text.

We can work with you to place a uniquely tailored ad in our side-bar which will convey your message in a format that suits you.

The links in our ad space to your web site are direct links which will open in a new window. This type of direct link will also provide the added bonus of a page popularity for your site. Other sites which list your ad may pass the link through some type of ad counter which redirects the user to your site and does not count in the search engines as an incoming link.

Contact Us!

Whatever your advertising needs are we would like to help. Our highly targeted commodity futures trader visitor base will ensure that you have the demographic that you need viewing your ad.

Please email Harry Gregory at info@commoditytradingmethods.com and we will be happy to discuss your advertising needs.
